From the Rector

Years ago, when the Betty Crocker Company first began selling their cake mixes, they offered a product which only needed water. All you had to do was add water to the mix which came in the box, and you would get a perfect, delicious cake every time.

The cake mix was a failure. No one bought it and the company couldn't understand why, so they commissioned a study which brought back a surprising answer. It seemed that people weren't buying the cake mix because it was too easy. They didn't want to be totally excluded from the work of preparing a cake; they wanted to feel that they were contributing something to it. So, Betty Crocker changed the formula and required the customer to add an egg in addition to water. Immediately, the new cake mix was a huge success.

In today's gospel passage, Jesus declares to his disciples that the time has come – within a week the whole purpose of his coming into the world will be fulfilled as he hangs on the cross. And he reminds them again that the cross will be a part of every disciple's life. "Whoever serves me must follow me." The image he uses does not involve torture and blood and death. He chooses a grain of wheat, which produces nothing if left to itself, but upon being planted and nourished in the soil brings forth much fruit. It dies to its former appearance and is transformed into something different and productive.

So often, as we consider embracing the cross in our own life, we misunderstand how we will encounter the cross. We know suffering and disappointment are part of our human experience. And so, if we were to experience something terrible, we plan to carry our cross as we grit our teeth and fight our way through until things get better. We always plan that such moments in life will be few and far between. We want our life to be easy and pleasant. But Jesus expects us to follow him to the cross every day because the invitation is all around us. Someone treats us unfairly and we are filled with resentment – until we choose to plant a seed of patience and forgiveness and move beyond the moment.

Someone we love is experiencing terrible suffering and we are helpless to make things better and wonder where God is in this – until we choose to plant the seed of faith and trust that all is in God's hands. We have dreams and hopes for the future, but when everything seems to be working against our happiness and we grow angry we have the moment to imitate Jesus and place things in our Father's hands. We plant the seed of confidence, for he loves us completely.

During this fifth week of Lent, we are preparing to relive the moments in which Jesus embraced the cross, so that we would never doubt how much God loves us. Such powerful love was not proven easily – Jesus gave everything he had as he died in this terrible manner. It is his great gift to us – we are saved by his act of love on the cross. And he is clear, if we are going to follow him and share in his glory, we are going to have to put in something of our self as well. We cannot simply wear the cross around our neck or use it to decorate our wall. We will also have to be willing to love Jesus enough to embrace the cross. The cross will probably not come to us in one crushing moment as it did to Jesus. But, by picking up all the little splinters of the cross as they are offered to us each day, we are transformed into someone different and productive. We become a true disciple of Jesus.

Un Mensaje del Rector

Hace años, cuando empezó la compañía de Betty Crocker vender su harina preparada para pastel, la harina solo necesitaba agua para obtener un delicioso pastel.

La harina fue un fracaso, nadie la compraba y la compañía no entendía el porqué, y encargo un estudio que les trajo una sorprendente respuesta: la gente no compraba la harina porque era muy fácil de preparar dicho pastel; la misa gente no quería ser excluida de los trabajos de dicho pastel. Así Betty Crocker cambio la formula la cual requería que el cliente agregara un huevo además del agua. Inmediatamente, el nuevo pastel fue todo un éxito.

En el pasaje evangélico de hoy, Jesús dice a sus discípulos que ha llegado el momento - dentro de una semana todo el propósito de su venida al mundo será cumplido cuando él cuelga en la cruz. Y les recuerda una vez más que la cruz será una parte de la vida de todo discípulo; "Si alguno quiere servirme, que me siga." La imagen que utiliza no implica la tortura, la sangre y la muerte. Escoge un grano de trigo, que no produce nada si no se deja a sí misma, pero al ser plantada y nutrida en el suelo lleva mucho fruto. Muere a su antigua apariencia y se transforma en algo diferente y productivo.

Tan a menudo, como consideramos abrazando a la cruz en nuestra propia vida, no entendemos cómo vamos a encontrar dicha cruz. Sabemos que el sufrimiento y la decepción son parte de nuestra experiencia humana. Y así, vamos a experimentar algo terrible, planeamos llevar nuestra cruz apretando los dientes y abriéndonos paso hasta que las cosas mejoren. Siempre planeamos que esos momentos de la vida sean pocas y espaciados. Queremos que nuestra vida sea fácil y agradable. Pero Jesús espera de nosotros seguirlo hasta la cruz cada día, porque la invitación esta ante todo lo que nos rodea; alguien que nos trata injustamente y estamos llenos de resentimiento, hasta que elegimos plantar una semilla de paciencia y perdón y pasar más allá del momento.

Alguien que amamos está experimentando sufrimiento terrible y somos impotentes para hacer alguna cosa mejor y nos preguntamos donde está Dios en este momento, hasta que elegimos a plantar la semilla de la fe y la confianza y ponemos todo en manos de Dios. Tenemos sueños y esperanzas para el futuro, pero cuando estamos trabajando en contra de nuestra felicidad y nuestro crecimiento, nos enojamos porque no podemos imitar a Jesús y queremos poner todo esto en las manos del Padre. Así plantamos la semilla de la confianza, ante quien nos ama completamente.

Durante la quinta semana de Cuaresma, nos preparamos para revivir los momentos en que Jesús abrazó la cruz, así que nunca podremos dudar de cuánto nos ama Dios. Amor tan poderosas que no fue probado fácilmente - Jesús dio todo lo que tenía, ya que murió de esta manera terrible. Es su gran regalo para nosotros - somos salvos por su acto de amor en la cruz. Y si está claro, ¿si vamos a seguirlo y compartir su gloria?, vamos a tener que poner algo de nosotros mismos. No podemos simplemente llevar la cruz en torno a nuestro cuello o colgarlo en nuestra pared. También tendremos que estar dispuestos a amar a Jesús lo suficiente para abrazar la cruz. La cruz probablemente no viene a nosotros en un momento aplastante como lo hizo con Jesús. Pero, recogiendo todas las pequeñas astillas de la cruz como dones ofrecidos a nosotros cada día, nos transforma en alguien diferente y productivo. Nos convertimos en un verdadero discípulo de Jesús
